Attorneys For Defense Ask Stay of

NEWBERRY IN A STATEMENT

Nothing in Verdict to "Make Me Hang My Head"—Will Not Resign Seat in Senate

(By United Press.)

Grand Rapids, Mich., Mar. 20.—United States Senator Truman Newberry was today sentenced to two years in the federal prison and was fined $10,000, following his conviction on the election fraud charges by the United States district court.

The sentence was passed by Judge Sessions of the United States district court. Just before the judge pronounced the conviction, attorneys for the defense moved for stay of judgment and a new trial. The motion was denied.

The jury reported at 11:20 a. m. after deliberating since 5 p. m. yesterday.

The jury found conspiracy in the election with the issue to cause expenditure of a sum of money in excess of amount allowed under federal corrupt practice act. Senator Newberry today issued following statement when he was notified on the election fraud charges:

"There is nothing in the jury verdict that will make me hang my head, and not until my conscience tells me that I have wronged the people of Michigan will I resign my seat in the United States senate."

"Father will not resign from the United States senate," Phelps Newberry, son of the senator, stated.

Sixteen other associates of Newberry were found guilty. All of them were leading defendants.

The remainder of the defendants were acquitted. It was stated.

All of the defense were found not guilty on the charges of conspiracy to use the United States mails to defraud.

The others found guilty with Newberry were: Paul King, Detroit, who managed Newberry's election campaign.

Frederick Cody, New York City, legislative agent and Newberry's right hand man.

Charles Floyd, Grand Rapids, manager for the election campaign.

Allan Templeton, head of the Detroit Chamber of Commerce.

In case several make application, it will be possible that this money will be spent on lectures so that all the applicants could be benefited. Any of the committee will gladly explain the vocational inducements to the former service men.

Hannibal Hopkins, publicity agent for the Newberry campaign.

John Newberry, brother of the senator, who furnished $90,900 for the campaign.

The "Newberry Case" grew out of one of the bitterest campaigns ever waged for a seat in the United States senate.

Truman H. Newberry and Henry Ford were the leading contestants.

Newberry, a member of one of Michigan's oldest families, before the automobile industry hit Detroit, wealthiest families; a member of the navy during the Spanish-American war, assistant secretary of the navy in Roosevelt's cabinet and an aide to the commander of the port of New York, during the world war, based his appeal for election on a war platform.

Ford, head of the Ford Automobile Company, head of the Ford peace ship, and before the United States entered the war, leading pacifist, built his platform on support of President Wilson's policies.

The Newberry supporters built up a huge organization entering into every county, city and village in the state.

CHECK FORGER IS SUCCESSFUL HERE

C. Carnes Passes Bogus Paper at Dry Goods and Clothing Stores For Merchandise

A FOUNTAIN PEN SALESMAN

Gave Checks on "Mercantile State Bank" of Evansville Which Does Not Exist

A fountain pen salesman, giving his name as R. Carnes, escaped yesterday evening after passing bogus checks on Rushville merchants for approximately $60. He gave a worthless check for $37.55 at the Mauzy company for a dress for his wife and one for $11.40 for shirts and cravats which he purchased at William G. Mulno's clothing store. He also gave Pitman and Wilson a check for $10 as their commission on pens which he sold in their store while here.

Carnes gave all three of the checks on the "Mercantile State Bank" of Evansville, which does not exist, it developed last night. The Mauzy company telegraphed an inquiry to this bank yesterday afternoon when Carnes offered the check in payment for a dress, but as the reply was so long in coming, he was allowed to take the dress.

When an answer to the telegram did come, it showed that there was in reality no "Mercantile State Bank" in Evansville, but that there is a Mercantile Commercial Bank, an officer of which answered the message sent by the Mauzy company.

Carnes and his wife said when they left Pitman and Wilson's store yesterday afternoon shortly before four o'clock that they were going to Connersville on the I. & C. traction line at 4:05 o'clock. As soon as the forgeries were discovered, Charles F. Wilson, Louis Mauzy, and Mr. Mulno went to Connersville on the 5:24 car, but failed to find any trace of Carnes or his wife there.

Carnes registered at the Scanlon hotel as "K. Carnes," but paid his and Mrs. Carnes' bill in cash before leaving yesterday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Carnes went to Pitman and Wilson's store Thursday morning and asked for permission to set up a stand in the front of the store to sell fountain pens. They were allowed this privilege and then passed bills all over the city, announcing they had pens for sale.

Carnes received a C. O. D. package, which he said contained a gross of fountain pens. The shipment was made by the Standard Pen company of Evansville, and was addressed to C. Carnes.

Carnes used a blank check in writing the check given to Pitman and Wilson, but changed a Peoples National bank check to the "Mercantile State Bank" in writing checks for the Mauzy company, and Mr. Mulno.

Carnes' handwriting was very poor. He was a middle-aged man, about five feet nine of ten inches tall and weighed probably 180 or 200 pounds. His wife was a brunette and was small.

JUDGE REVERSED

IN TRIBBEY CASE

Supreme Court Holds Verdict in Action of State vs Tribbey Should Not Have Been Sustained

NEW TRIAL MOTION DENIED

Arlington Man Found Guilty of Adultery in February, 1919, Fined $50, Given Jail Sentence

The supreme court has reversed the decision of Judge Will M. Sparks in the case of the state vs Tribbey, which was appealed from the Rush circuit court, after Tribbey was convicted of adultery here in February, 1919. John B. Tribbey of Arlington was charged in a grand jury indictment with having illicit relations with Mrs. Blanche Alaman of this city, and the jury returned a verdict of guilty, imposing a fine of $50 and 30 days in jail.

At that time Judge Sparks overruled the defendant's motion for a new trial, and Tribbey took an appeal to the supreme court, which has just acted on the case, stating that the verdict was contrary to law and should not have been sustained by the court.

The decision of the supreme court in the case is given as follows:

(1) Appellant was convicted of living and cohabiting with a woman in the state of adultery. The indictment was not defective in failing to allege that they cohabited together "as man and wife" but was sufficient. (2) The instructions not being brought into the record by bill of exceptions are not before the court for consideration of alleged error therein. (3) To sustain a conviction under the statute there must be a showing that the man and woman lived together in the manner of husband and wife, and something more than occasional acts of immorality. The evidence shows that the woman was living all of the time with her husband and that the appellant only paid her visits at various times when her husband was absent at work or otherwise, and that his visits were of rather short duration. This is not sufficient to support a conviction under the statute.

RICHMOND BOY RUN DOWN BY LOCAL MAN

AN UNAVOIDABLE ACCIDENT

Hugh Mauzy of this city, while driving his automobile in North Nineteenth street in Richmond yesterday afternoon, struck Roy Jenkins, an eleven-year-old boy, who was riding a bicycle and darted across the street in front of the machine. The young boy was seriously injured about the body and suffered a broken left leg, above the knee.

The accident was wholly unavoidable on Mr. Mauzy's part, as the youngster, who was riding ahead of the automobile suddenly rode across the street at an alley intersection, and the Mauzy machine was not traveling very fast, or the boy would have been injured much worse, in the opinion of Mr. Mauzy. He was removed to a hospital where he will be given the best treatment and an early recovery is expected.

Mr. and Mrs. Mauzy were in the machine and had attended the funeral of Miss Frances Fryar. They were taking some of the floral offerings to an Old Woman's Home, as was the request of the deceased. Mrs. Mauzy remained in Richmond and Mr. Mauzy will return there tonight and will ascertain how the injured boy is getting along.

FIGHTING AT KIEL

London, Mar. 20.—More than 150 sailors were killed and many others were wounded in the fighting between communists and Ebert troops at Kiel, according to an Exchange Telegraph dispatch today. Naval buildings were badly damaged in the bombardment, the dispatch reported.

MARSHALL IS OUT OF RACE

Petitions to Place His Name on Presidential Ballot Withdrawn

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, Ind., Mar. 20.—William Elder, acting for Vice-President Marshall, today withdrew the petitions asking that Marshall's name be placed on the presidential ballot in the democratic primary.

Elder's action followed a similar move by supporters of Governor Edwards of New Jersey.

This leaves no democratic nomination in the field and assures that the democratic delegates to the democratic national convention will go uninstructed.

GYPSIES DRIVEN AWAY BY POLICE

Same Band Which Visited Shelbyville and Columbus Also Infested This City Yesterday.

TRAVELED IN AUTOMOBILES

Begged Food and Clothing From Farmers and Frightened Women Who Were Alone.

A band of South American gypsies, traveling in automobiles, were routed from this city yesterday afternoon by the police, after the gypsies had started in on their usual line of fortune telling and begging among the business houses. The gypsies were attired in bright garments, wearing much jewelry and attracted an unusual amount of attention as they scattered throughout the business district in all directions.

This same band of gypsies was ordered out of Shelbyville and Columbus, after they had almost taken the city, and caused much alarm. They were camped in a school yard south of Shelbyville Thursday, and when requested to move, refused. Later they took possession of the home of Thomas Crafton, near Flat Rock Cave. The gypsies are said to have forced their way into the place and left only when Crafton compelled them to at the point of a gun.

Many places between here and Shelbyville they begged clothing and food of farmers, and in many cases where only women were at home they obtained what they asked for, as they frightened the women by their remarks and appearances.

The gypsies left Rushville after being here for only a short time, and when last seen were headed toward Connersville, traveling in their automobiles.

CHIEF OF POLICE IS ARRESTED BY SHERIFF

Arvey Wilfong is Accused of Assault And Battery in Circuit Court Affidavit.

KICKED YOUNG MAN, CHARGE

Sheriff Jones arrested Chief of Police Arvey Wilfong, late yesterday afternoon, on a bench warrant from the circuit court, alleging assault and battery, and when arraigned before Judge Sparks, he did not enter a plea, and was allowed to go on his own recognizance while awaiting trial.

The charges were brought to the attention of Prosecutor Stevens by Arthur Snyder, aged 20, upon whom the alleged assault was made. The affidavit states that on February 22, the police officer kicked Snyder, after being ordered to leave the I. & C. traction station.

The traction officials had previously complained to city officials about habitual loafers around and in the station and asked that the police put a stop to it. On the date mentioned above, the chief of police ordered several young men to leave the station, and after leading Snyder to the door, it is said that the officer then kicked him. Snyder maintains that he was not resisting the officer, nor was he under arrest.

NEXT WEEK TO BE BUSY ONE IN COURT

Cline Trial Starts on Monday and Will be Followed by Hearing of Demaree Cases

NEW EVIDENCE BEING FOUND

Indications Are Jesse Demaree's Trial For Robbing Dean Home Will Begin Thursday

Next week promises to be a most busy period in the Rush circuit court, as several prominent cases are scheduled to be tried, the first being on Monday when the state case against Ora Cline, charged with encouraging delinquency will be tried, and later in the week, will begin the trial of the Demaree gang, with Jesse Demaree being tried first on a charge of burglary.

Sheriff Jones and his deputies have been busy in recent days in summoning the witnesses the jurors for the Cline case, which attracts unusual attention throughout the county. A special venire of 25 names was drawn for this case and in all probability it will take most of Monday to secure a jury.

Freemont Miller, regular judge of the Johnson circuit court at Franklin, will be here Monday to act as special judge in the case. This was granted the defense, after they had filed a motion for a change of judge.

It is said that there are new developments daily in the Demaree case, most of which are not being made public. George Bruce and Attorney Hamilton of Greensburg were here today consulting with their clients, Jesse and Boaz Demaree, who are in jail here.

On account of the probability that the Cline case will take up the first three days, the trial of Jesse Demaree, charged with the robbery of the Dr. Dean residence, will be tried on Thursday.

Ethel Simmonds has filed suit for divorce from Francis Simmonds, stating that they lived together only about a month and a half, being married December 11, 1918 and separated the first of February, 1919. She states that her husband deserted her and has never supported her and that she has lived since their separation with her father, Robert Phillips, on his farm in Richland township. Mrs. Simmonds also alleges that her husband is not a fit person to marry and live with, as he had contracted a contagious disease.

$300 CHECK IS GIVEN TO PASTOR AND WIFE

Token of Appreciation From First U. P. Congregation to Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Aiken

PRESENTED AT CLASS MEETING

A check for $300 was presented last night to the Rev. John T. Aiken, pastor of the First United Presbyterian church, and Mrs. Aiken, by the board of trustees, and congregation of the church, as a token of their appreciation of the work of the pastor and his wife.

The occasion for the presentation was a social and business meeting of the Men's Bible class of the Sunday school, which was held at the parsonage. The check was presented by Howard E. Barratt, member of the board, who commented on the fact that money was contributed by all members of the congregation freely and in fine spirit. The Rev. Mr. Aiken expressed his appreciation, as well as that of his wife, not so much for the check itself but because it showed the feeling of the congregation toward them.

Officers of the men's class were elected for the year as follows: Wash Allen, president; Hal Pike, vice-president; Dora Edwards, secretary-treasurer; the Rev. Mr. Aiken, teacher; George E. Green, assistant teacher.

URGES PEOPLE TO FIGHT CATARRH WITH SIMPLE HOME MADE REMEDY

Can Make Pint at Home and Costs Little, Says Leading Druggist of Covington, Ky., Who Has Made Special Study of Catarrh.

Says: Inflamed Nostrils Invite Influenza

People who say that catarrh is a disease not to be taken seriously are harshly rebuked by a Kentucky druggist who has for years been much interested in the growth of this loathsome, yet altogether too common disease.

He claims that the sore, tender, inflamed membrane of the nostrils and throat is a prolific breeding ground for germs—not only the germs of influenza, but many other kinds as well.

If people would only stop experimenting for two weeks and try a simple remedy made of Mentholized Arcline mixed with enough boiled water to make a full pint, half of the catarrh in this country would be abolished. It's really no joke for people

OIL RESOURCES IN MEXICO TOUCHED

Estimated That at Least Fifty New Wells Will Start Under Provisional Permits.

NEW DEVELOPMENT EXPECTED

In 1920 Mexico Will Produce 135,000,000 Barrels of Oil—120,000,000 Bbls to be Exported

By RALPH H. TURNER.
(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

Tampico, Feb. 10. (By Mail)—When President Carranza issued his recent decree allowing the resumption of oil well drilling under provisional permits, he did more than relieve the tension that had arisen over the Mexican-American oil controversy. He permitted a glimpse into Mexico's future as an oil producing nation.

Mexico's oil resources have largely been scratched, according to authorities in Tampico.

Today Tampico is preparing for another boom. Taking advantage of the opportunity to resume operations, agents of the oil companies here and at Tampico are applying to the government for permits, new rigs are being erected in the fields and the influx of new men and materials from the States is under way. At this date it is estimated that at least fifty new wells will be started under the provisional permits.

Half of these wells will be in "wildcat" or unproven territory. Herein lies a phase of the Mexican oil situation that has commanded the attention of petroleum capital the world over.

While most of these "wildcat" wells will be drilled within the region of Tampico, the prospect of discovering new pools, together with the world demand for oil and the ruinous of many wells recently by salt water, has drawn the attention of producers to parts of Mexico which hitherto have received scant attention as oil territory.

In the Tampico region, wells will be put down on locations as far as forty-five miles from the coastline. New development is expected in the state of Tamaulipas; "wildcatting" also is looked for in the states of Nuevo Leon and Coahuila, in some instances along the American border.

Due to the involved situation as regards titles, pending the final interpretation of Article 27 of the new Mexican constitution, the new drilling will not be as general as it might but that does not prevent the oil operators from "looking around" nor does it prevent speculation as to the extent of the undiscovered wealth which still lies in Mexican sub-soil. In the oil fields of tomorrow, it is stated here may be included the states of Tabasco and Campeche, along the southwestern dip of the Gulf of Mexico, while at least one millionaire operator is known to have faith in Mexico's west coast, in the states of Sonora and Sinaloa.

Mexican oil? "Why, it's just been touched," declares Tampico, remembering that the combined area of the fields in this region totals less than 150 square miles.

It is estimated that in 1920 Mexico will produce 135,000,000 barrels of oil and that 120,000,000 barrels will be exported. Thus Mexico will fill about 20 percent of the world's oil requirements.

To achieve this, Tampico must greatly augment her facilities for handling oil. This undertaking already is under way. New pipe lines, storage facilities and other installations are being constructed, or is contemplated, to the value of $50,000,000. U. S. Currency. When the new pipe lines are completed, Tampico will have a capacity for handling 520,500 barrels of oil daily from the fields to tide-water.

On the first of the year, there were 523 steel or concrete storage tanks in the Tampico district, having a total capacity of 24,891,500 barrels. But there are being constructed today 46 steel tanks, with a capacity of 2,495,000 barrels, and plans have been made for eighty-eight other tanks, with a capacity of 4,840,000 barrels.

All of this is reflected in the present-day spirit of Tampico. It gives an insight, moreover, into the Mexico of tomorrow. The industrial world is demanding oil in ever-increasing quantities.

And in the words of a Tampico oil executive, "Mexico holds the balance of power."

SAYS NEED IS FOR GOD-SENT MINISTERS

Evangelist Stewart Declares at Revival Many Are Sitting on Bank and Not Getting Bite

FISHERS OF MEN IS TOPIC

A good crowd turned out last night to hear Evangelist Stewart who is conducting a ten day, old-fashioned revival at the Salvation Army. The evangelist used for his text, "And I will make you fishers of men." In part he said:

"It makes a great deal of difference whether God or your earthly father has made you a preacher. The fact is the market is about full of preachers, but there is a great demand and also need of God-sent ministers. Hundreds of preachers are just sitting on the bank and never getting a bite, and then some do get a little bite but it is only a little sucker. If we will only preach Christ and Him on the cross dying for a lost world we will become fishers of men. All lots preach is the second coming of Christ. I am not much interested as to when He is coming as getting people ready for His coming. How many people have you seen at a foot washing ceremony, pray through to victory. It doesn't take 200 years to make a minister out of you. It took only a few seconds for God to make a real hot minister out of Paul."

Tomorrow will be a big day, starting at 7:30 a. m. "Knee drill," 10 a. m. Holiness meeting, 2 p. m. Company meeting, 3:15 praise meeting, 6:45 open air meeting, 7:30, a great salvation meeting.

TO DISCONTINUE THE STATE FISH HATCHERY

Regarded as Advisable Now Since Enlargement of Hatchery at Riverside Park

OPERATED AT BROOKVILLE

Indianapolis, Ind., Mar. 20.—The state fish hatchery at Brookville, operated since 1912, will be discontinued this spring, according to announcement by the department of conservation. The hatchery buildings and equipment will be sold.

Discontinuance of the Brookville hatchery is advisable now since the enlargement of the hatchery at Riverside Park, which will supply fingerlings for stocking streams in that section heretofore served by the Brookville hatchery. Because of an underlying strata of gravel, the department has always experienced at the Franklin County hatchery.

The state leased the land from the owner, Roy Bruns, who informs the department he will operate a bathing beach and fish pond on the old hatchery site, operating it in connection with the Magnesia Springs summer resort.

EVOLUTION OF PRAYER IS SHOWN

Dr. G. S. Henninger Points Out That Men's Prayers Change With Their Ideas of God

CITES HIS OWN EXPERIENCE

Finally Realized He Was The Soul Keeper, The Giver Of Perfect Peace and Rest

"The evolution of Prayer" was the theme of the farewell sermon by the Rev. George S. Henninger of Indianapolis at St. Paul's M. E. church revival last night. The church will continue next week with the pastor, the Rev. C. S. Black, preaching.
"Men's prayers change with their idea of God," he said. "The Pharisee prayed one prayer, the publican prayed another, but they both prayed. The difference lies in their conception of God. David prayed at one time that God would give him power over his enemies and destroy all those arrayed against him, but when his idea of God changed, his prayer changed, and he breathed forth that most beautiful prayer, 'Create in me a clean heart O God and renew a right spirit within me.' Take for instance your own experience. When a boy I looked upon God as an awful God and the burden of my prayer was to be saved from hell. Later on I looked upon God as one who kept account of all deeds, holding the balance in his hands. I tried to conform to this by works. I said 'I will take heed unto my ways.' Later on I recognized God as one who could be approached. Then, in my prayers I realized a nearness to God.
"Later on I recognized Him as a God who loved me and hated my sins. Then I asked forgiveness and the burden of my prayer was, 'God be merciful to me a sinner.' Now my idea of God began to grow. I felt His as my Father, and for the first time I could look into his face and say, 'My Father which is in Heaven.' Growth was now rapid. I realized Him as a God who was really interested in me in this life, in my planning and in the things which were conducive to my temporal happiness. As a climax to it all, I realized Him as my soul keeper, a giver of perfect peace and soul rest. Thou wilt keep him in perfect peace, whose mind is stayed on thee. The burden of my praying now is, 'Keep me O God in perfect peace, through trust in Thee.'
There will be no service held this evening, but on Sunday the revival will be resumed to continue through another week. The pastor will preach on Sunday morning on 'St. Paul's conception of a Christian'. In the evening at 7 o'clock W. E. Shurtle, secretary of the Railroad Men's Y. M. C. A. in Indianapolis, will bring the message. His sermon will appeal especially to men, old and young. Mr. Shurtle has an enviable reputation as a speaker and will doubtless attract a large hearing.

Newberry Sent to Federal Prison For Term of 2 Years

state. By their own admission $178,000 was spent. The government attorneys contended that they had showed $225,000 was paid out to "purchase a seat in the senate" for Commander Newberry. Testimony given at the trial stated one defendant in a conversation said $800,000 was spent.
Paul H. King headed the Newberry campaign committee in Michigan. The government claimed that Senator Newberry and Frederick Cody hatched the alleged plot to corrupt the 1918 elections in Michigan while they resided in New York. They sent for King to come to New York and made him manager of the campaign, the testimony showed.
Newberry worked directly through King in carrying out the details of the campaign, the government contended. Correspondence presented in the trial by the defense which passed between King and Newberry showed King wrote as many as eight letters a day to his chief.
The case hinged on the question of whether or not Senator Newberry "caused to be expended" an amount in excess of the sum allowed by the Michigan statutes in procuring his election. This amount is $3,750.

CHICHESTER'S PILLS

OLD TIME DUELS NOW DEAD ISSUE

High Cost of Living and The Recent War is Blamed For Abandonment of Dueling

"USELESS BLOOD" WAS SHED

Former Manner of Settling Arguments in Paris Will Now be Matter of History

By HENRY WOOD (U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

Paris, Feb. 20. (By Mail)—Paris dueling is definitely dead.
This is the consensus of both the French press and the French public following the few sporadic attempts that have taken place since the armistice to revive what was formerly the most picturesque and the most harmless of Parisian sports.
Two causes are conceded to be largely responsible for the untimely demise of these "affairs of honor", namely the war and the high cost of living.
During the five years of the war the French public became too accustomed to seeing hundreds and thousands of men killed and mutilated to be able to stir up any enthusiasm or interest in a mere skin scratch sustained in a duel.
Secondly, the high cost of living and the depreciated value of currency and fixed fortunes generally has rendered it entirely too expensive an affair to stage a Parisian duel. Without the duel being staged so that the two combatants might get the greatest amount of publicity and social gossip out of it, there is very little object in risking having one's skin scratched and possibly getting infected with sleeping sickness microbes.
According to La Liberte, which recently published a notituary notice of the "duel", affairs of honor at Paris are now being settled in the following manner:
When two "messieurs" get involved in an argument in which the honor of one or the other of them becomes jolted, the later says to the former:
"You're a bloody, bow-legged, knocked-kneed spindle-shanked war profiteer," or words to that effect.
"You're a vulgar nouveau riche," replies the aggressor.
"Consider yourself slapped in the face," replies the aggressed.
"Consider your own face equally slapped" retorts the aggressor.
Thereupon, there being absolutely no deeper limit of either insult or injury to which the two can sink, they either turn their back on each other and walk away, or else shake hands and are reconciled on the spot.
Before the war, of course, the two having got to the point where they had constructively slapped each other's face, seconds were called in, efforts made at reconciliation which always failed, and then with great form and pomp, everyone clad in high silk hats, Prince Albert coats and chrysanthemums in the button hole, the whole lot repaired to the ferris wheel on the Champ de Mars and proceeded to have each other's gore.
Before the gore stage was reached however, press photographers took photographs of the two would-be slayers with arms in their hands, the society reporters took down the names of the brilliant gathering of artistry and nobility gathered in the office, and then the two fighters went for each other until one or the other got accidentally, intentionally or purposely scratched.
Thereupon, physicians who had been held in the leash were turned loose. They dashed madly up, ascertained that blood was actually showing through the skin and then in order to prevent any further useless shedding of blood—or shedding of "useless blood"—according to the point of view, the whole affair was reluctantly terminated.

Education Chief Element in Making of The Man

By W. R. JINNET

James Freeman Clarke, long ago said: "Birth, education, environment and choice, made the man". But education is the chief element in the making of a man.
There are several kinds of education. The theatrical, the ornamental and the utilitarian. The theatrical is for those who have nothing to do but kill time, the vagrants of civilization. The ornamental is such as that possessed by savages. The utilitarian is that which predominates among the cave men people, that class to which most of us belong.
Without doubt education is the basis of our civilization. The word education came from a Greek word which means to draw out. Education is therefore, a progress. The main force in that progress is the public school teacher. In the largest sense education means the development of the mental, moral and physical forces of the individual. In short it is the making of a man or a woman. Who can deny its necessity? Certainly no rational mind.
The profession of teaching, so long neglected, is slowly coming into its own. An awakened public conscience is calling for a readjustment of our educational system that shall do justice to the worth of the teacher.
In recognizing the value of the teacher, adequate support will be given. Reflection upon the benevolent character of any kind of work will not sustain the work. There must be support of a substantial character and that is coming. It is the hope of every right thinking man and woman that the present agitation of this subject will result in the prevalence of a system that will recognize the true worth of those who shape the destiny of our nation in the education of our boys and girls and that the proper reward, so long delayed, will be restored on its rightful owner, our public school teacher.

The Wooden Fleet

Ten of those 200 wooden vessels of war time construction have been consigned to a Philadelphia firm of ship brokers for disposal, and this is believed to indicate a general policy of the Shipping board to discard the entire wooden fleet. After consideration plans to refit these ships with oil burning engines have been abandoned. They are still seaworthy and are not altogether useless, but it is recognized that they can not compete with steel ships in the general carrying trade. Of course this was foreseen when their construction was undertaken about two years ago. The wooden fleet was created for a single definite purpose and this purpose was served. Our wooden ships were of ordinary practical use in carrying many war cargoes, but even if they had never carried a single such cargo their construction would not have been a waste of money.

They helped greatly to respond to the demand for ships and more ships when German submarines were sending to the bottom the floating food so desperately needed to preserve our Allies from famine. The destruction and the urgency were so great that a wooden ship was as serviceable as any other in that its sinking preserved a steel ship that would have gone down instead. Steel vessels could not be produced fast enough and wooden vessels helped to fill the yawning gaps. The demonstration of our ability to rush upon the waters wooden vessels thus serviceable was of enormous value apart from the work actually done, for it proved to the Germans that we and our Allies could produce ships much faster than they could hope to sink them, and that therefore their submarine effort in the long run would be utterly futile. Our hastily built wooden fleet was a part of the evidence that the resources of the United States had rung the death knell of German hopes.

can make in his limitations.Her Heck says: "Any chamber-maid in a hotel ought to be an authority on kissing."It takes a microscope these days to find the liberty that Thomas Jefferson put into the Constitution.The remarkable thing about all cures for poison ivy and colds is the uniform way they all fail to work.After a couple get married, the newspapers pay little attention to them unless they commit a crime or try for a divorce.

The hornets are beginning to build their nests again across the water, and it is only a question of time when some one will be stirring them up. On the surface everything is serene and lovely and the league of nations is expected to do wonders but the fellow who digs down finds a growing mass of discontent and suspicion. There is no one country that is willing to take another at face value, each being afraid that the other is concealing some secret card up his sleeve. On paper there is apparent harmony, but in reality there is none. The lid is due to blow off again in the not distant future and we of America should keep out.

The Filipinos have voted a pension of $600 for their popular hero, Aguinaldo, who twenty years ago led a revolt against the United States, but, as they voted on the same day an honorarium of $25,000 to Frank W. Carpenter, the retiring American governor of Mindanao, it would be seen that their attitude toward this country is all that could be desired, even if this had not already been made clear by their spontaneous offer of 25,000 soldiers to fight Germany.

Mr. Bryan says if it should become as necessary for him to run for President a fourth time as it is for a soldier to risk his life when his country is at war, he will consent to be nominated. But, while awaiting such an imperative summons, he doubtless meditates soberly upon the fact that, although he nobly responded to three other calls, the people decided in each case to let another undertake to save the country.

INTERESTING SUBJECTS

Two very interesting subjects will morning subject, will afford op-tan's View of Life" the evening theme, will make it possible to look at life from an altogether different viewpoint, it is announced.

Birds Which Pay
Way in the County

The state department of conservation has prepared a series of sixteen articles on insectivorous birds which combat voracious insect pests that annually collect a tax of many thousands of dollars by destroying fruit and cereal crops. These articles are written for the benefit of farmers so that these friends of the farmers may be protected and allowed to carry on their valuable work.

The red-headed woodpecker is a bird of temperate North America.
It is an irregular migrant, those that migrate going southward the last of October and the first half of November and returning north very early, if conditions are favorable.

The head and neck of the adult red-headed woodpecker are crimson red all around, with a narrow crescent of black in the upper part of the breast; rump and lower part of the body white, with reddish tints; wings bluish-black, with secondaries white, tinted with red; upper part of tail bluish-black and under coverts white. The female is like the male in appearance.

A careful study of the food of these birds by the United States Department of Agriculture shows that it consists of 50 per cent of animal, 47 per cent of vegetable and 3 per cent of mineral matter. The animal matter consists of ants, wasps, beetles, grasshoppers, moths, caterpillars, spiders and myriapods.

This woodpecker is sociable, playful and noisy. He likes to play "hide and peep." They are very fond of drumming on a sheet of tin, and frequently are heard from the roofs of dwellings.

Can Catarrh Be Cured?

Does It Cause Tuberculosis, Pneumonia, Influenza to be Contracted?

Free Examination and Lecture by Catarrh Specialist.

The medical director of the Indiana Catarrh Institute, 1436 North Illinois St., Indianapolis, Ind., is going to be in this city for one day. He will give privately, a free examination and consultation to everybody that goes to see him, as well as a very interesting and instructive lecture on just what catarrh is; what it will do to a person afflicted with it and give proof that catarrh has been cured and is now being cured every day right in this city. This expert specialist has spent 17 years in the special study and treatment of Chronic Catarrh, has seen thousands of cases and positively pays no attention to any other disease than catarrh. He is at the head of a large institution in Indianapolis, which is devoted exclusively to the treatment of this one disease. He has an entirely new and different system of successfully treating this disease, which he will be glad to demonstrate to all who call on him.

This pleasant and successful system can be used at home, at very small expense, without any loss of time or inconvenience. It works successfully on the worst old cases of catarrh, throat and bronchial tubes, chronic cough and bronchitis, dropping mucus in the throat, pains in the chest, shortness of breath, clogged up head and nostrils, head noises and catarrhal deafness, hawking and spitting frequently, severe colds, asthma, hay fever, chronic catarrh of the stomach and bowels and all old "run down" conditions due to catarrh.

Chronic Catarrh is often the forerunner of Tuberculosis, Influenza, Pneumonia and other fatal diseases. Stop wasting time and money on sprays, douches, salves, appliances and the methods of ordinary doctors. Go and consult a real specialist on this disease. It does not put you under obligation in any way. He is glad to advise you freely.

He will be at the Hotel Scanlan, on Wednesday, March 24th, from 9 a. m. to 8 p. m. (and every twenty-eight days thereafter.)

If it is impossible for you to call on him in person, you should write to find out all about this new system that is curing people. Just address a card or letter to the Indiana Catarrh Institute, 1436 North Illinois St., Indianapolis, Ind.—(Adv.)

BUYING A MISSIONARY'S TIME

"Now I have paid up my pledge to the Presbyterian Church. When I think of how much I have made this year, what I gave wasn't much. I will do more next year."

"This plan of giving to the church a certain proportion, possibly a tenth, appeals to me. I am going to talk it over with my wife. The amount I gave last year figures out to a mighty small sum every week. But at that, the money I did pay bought a foreign missionary's time for a little while—for a few days at least he belonged to me."

"Friend, can't you give 50 cents a week?"

The Presbyterian Church year ends March 31. The board treasurers are endeavoring to have all accounts for every cause paid before the last week of March.

Song of 10,000 Lines Being Written for India's Pariah Water Drawers

Missionaries choose the strange problems in their work of spreading the doctrine of Christianity. But generally they are able to work out a good solution. Doctor Walter F. Schiller, for years a missionary of the Dutch Reform Church in India, but now attached to the Foreign Survey of the International Church World Movement, tells of one curious problem well solved.

For centuries the Pariah water drawer of India has measured the number of buckets of water he draws by means of a song of 10,000 lines. Unable to count, much less to add or subtract, the water drawer had to be given some method of measurement. So this song was adopted. It runs:

"Three Hundred and Thirty Million Gods have I."

"Five Hundred Million Rishi have I," and so on for 10,000 variations.

The employer desiring a certain number of buckets to be drawn, tells the water drawer to stop his song at such a verse or line. The drawer pulls up one bucket for each line of the song and stops at the appointed place. He will have exactly the number wanted.

Not that many of these humble laborers of India have been converted to Christianity, they are faced by the problem of how to count without chanting a song which no longer represents their religious belief. So the missionaries are writing a song of 10,000 lines dealing with the life and teachings of Christ to be substituted for the chant now used.

Tom Geraghty To Adapt New Fairbanks Picture For Screen

Doug's Next Offering Will Be "Mollycoddle," Which He is Now Hard at Work Preparing. Promises to be as Good as "When the Clouds Roll By."

Los Angeles, Calif., Mar. 20.—"Doug's" next picture will be called "Mollycoddle." This was the announcement that came from Hiram Abrams, of the United Artists' Corporation this week, added to which information was the fact that this picture, the third that Mr. Fairbanks has done for the "Big Four," would be released in the near future. The date of release will be announced shortly.

While record crowds swarmed to the theatres showing "When the Clouds Roll By," "Doug's" second United Artists' production, he is hard at work before the camera completing "Mollycoddle."

Activities were seemingly at a standstill at the Fairbanks studio for some weeks, since the completion of his last picture, during which time, however, the producing star was resting and also preparing some novel "stunts" for his forthcoming release.

The numerous "stunts" and novelties in "When the Clouds Roll By," such as the flood, the nightmare episodes and the ultra-motion photography, all of which were absolutely new in motion picture presentation, while considered gigantic steps in the discovery of new material for the screen, will even be surpassed, states Fairbanks, by other features which he has embodied in the production now nearing completion.

There is but one thing similar about the latest and his last production. That is that it is an original story, written by Mr. Fairbanks himself. The screen adaptation will be by Tom Geraghty, editor of productions, who prepared the scenario for the picture that is now before the public.

New material is what the picture public are looking for, declares Fairbanks, and this is to be found to a great extent in original stories. It is because of the manner in which his last effort has been received that the star allowed a period of nine weeks to roll by so that more original ideas could be developed. A very generous share of the action of "Mollycoddle" calls for out door scenes, thereby affording the star considerable scope for a lot of new stunts.

Many new faces will be seen in support of Mr. Fairbanks in this next production, including a new leading lady, drawn from the legitimate stage and declared to be a "find." Frank Campeau, long identified with Fairbanks' productions, has an excellent part, giving him opportunities for his particular type of "villainy." Charles Stevens, who has won much favor with Fairbanks in the past, the Indiana Eagle Eye, "Bull" Montana and others familiar in previous supporting casts, will again surround the star in support of the story of "Mollycoddle."

Five weeks have already been spent by Fairbanks and part of his company in a desert, and for this expedition their equipment reminded Hollywood folks more of an army troupe going into Mexico than a motion picture outfit starting out to make a production. Following the completion of the work in the desert the company will spend about two weeks in the east filming another episode of the story. It is likely that many of these scenes will be taken in and around Brooklyn.

From advices received from Mr. Fairbanks personally, Mr. Abrams of United Artists is enthusiastic over this coming production, since there will be no end of novelties contained in it.

Before spring planting demands all your time, how about your farm buildings? How about granaries, sheds for machinery, barns? Are you prepared to take care of next fall's crops?

And repairing. Better get that out of the way now. Don't let a leaking roof keep you out of the field next summer.

We carry everything in lumber that you will need, including the handy, "ready to use" wall and ceiling material, Beaver Board. We will be glad to give you estimates on your building and repairing and also to help you plan the work. Phone or call us any time.

CONGRESS OFFERS 12 NEW CABINET POSTS PROPOSED

These Range From Profiteering in Men's Collars to Most Weighty International Questions

ALSO OFFERS MANY BILLS

Out of the 200 Resolutions Offered in Both Houses 77 Have Been Agreed to

(By Raymond Clapper)
(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

Washington, Mar. 20.—Breaking all previous records, the present Congress has ordered or proposed 200 investigations covering almost as many subjects, according to compilations tonight.

These range from profiteering in men's collars to the most weighty international questions.

How much these investigations cost has not been reckoned but it is estimated they will form a considerable part of congressional expenses which run about $25,000 a day.

This Congress is also breaking the previous record for bills and resolutions introduced, having 18,177 to its credit with only half of its time gone. The previous Congress, in its entire two years, piled up 23,811 in the house and senate hoppers.

Out of 200 resolutions offered in both houses of this congress proposing investigations of various kinds, 77 have been agreed to. They cover activities of Henry Ford, alleged discrimination against individual hucksters in the District of Columbia, and the "question of office rooms for Senators". Scores of resolutions have been introduced and many adopted for investigation of almost every executive department and prominent administration official. Scarcely any local disturbance of consequence in any quarter of the country escapes having a resolution of investigation introduced. Forrest fires in Minnesota, race riots in southern cities, the coal and steel strikes all prompted resolutions.

The list of subjects covered by resolutions offered in this Congress includes: substitutes for railroad cross-ties, coal price, socialistic activities in the Federal Trade Commission, sugar profiteering, propaganda to influence railroad legislation, troops in Russia, peace treaty leak, Mexican affairs activities of soviet agents in the U. S., merchant marine questions, garden, city and suburb improvement in Europe, transportation problems in the southwest, supply of cars for agricultural products, suspension of a Washington school teacher, high cost of living methods by which army officers secured "home duty" assignments during the war, income tax lodging, publicity bureaus of government departments, influenza, malaria, and conditions in the Virgin Islands.

Congress has conducted hearings on practically every question of national interest including the conduct of the war, shipping, railroads reorganization, the meat packing industry, food prices, and radical propaganda.

H. C. L. LOWER IN FEBRUARY

Washington, Mar. 19.—Living costs in February were .6 of one per cent less than in January, according to figures made public by the labor department today.

At the same time, the department pointed out food costs in January reached their highest level since 1913, the department figures showing that prices for the month were 2.2 per cent higher than in December.

A Friend Recommended Them

A person often does more good than he realizes when he tells a suffering friend how to get well. J. N. Tobill, clerk Lottie Hotel, Evansville, Ind., writes: "For weeks I suffered constantly with pains in the muscles of my thigh. I was treated by the doctor for rheumatism but found no relief. Upon recommendation of a friend, I tried Foley Kidney Pills and began to get relief almost immediately." Good for backache, rheumatic pains, stiff joints. P. B. Johnson.—(Adv.)

Those Most Suggested Are Sec. of Foreign Trade and Merchant Marine and Sec. of Education

LATTER FAVORED BY WOMEN

Many of These Proposals are Scarcely Given Serious Consideration—Thinking Out Loud

By RAYMOND CLAPPER
(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

Washington, Mar. 20.—Suggesting creation of new cabinet posts is one of Washington's indoor sports which is now flourishing as promoters of the many presidential booms now rolling along discover that there are so few of these plums to distribute among so many heavyweight contributors.

But in view of the fact that Congress has added only six cabinet jobs to the four originally established, it is not likely that all of the dozen or so suggested portfolios will be created in the near future, though it is possible that one or two may be added.

The new cabinet jobs more frequently suggested are those of Secretary of Aviation, Secretary of Foreign Trade and Merchant Marine and Secretary of Education. The latter post is being widely favored by club women and school teachers throughout the country as offering a chance for a woman of national reputation to enter the presidential cabinet. And in view of the tremendous political power of women voters from now on, many Congressmen and senators have already decided that as soon as this demand grows loud enough, they will have to bow to it, reluctant as they are to see a woman invade the sacred circle.

The following cabinet positions that have been proposed officially or unofficially or at least discussed in the cloak rooms of congress or over tea-tables in the Washington "drawing rooms" to which Franklin K. Lane referred when he retired from the cabinet recently:

Secretary of Education: to promote public instruction, wipe out illiteracy, educate aliens and aid states in vocational training.

Secretary of Transportation: to supervise operation of the railroads of the country, proposed chiefly in connection with government ownership or operation.

Secretary of Merchant Marine: to combine all government activity relating to foreign trade and shipping, develop an American merchant marine, supervise ocean freight rates, administer steamship regulations and assemble activities pertaining to ocean traffic now in charge of the Treasury, Commerce, Labor and State Departments.

Secretary of Aviation: to co-ordinate aviation activities of the army, navy and postoffice department air mail service, and promote the aviation industry as a preparedness measure.

Secretary of Public Works: to combine all activities relating to rivers and harbors, public buildings, road building and development of public lands, waterpower sites and mineral resources now scattered between the Treasury, War and Interior Departments.

Secretary of Science and Invention: to promote scientific research, develop industrial chemistry and science as Germany did in the dyestuffs and chemical industries, search for new implements of warfare, encourage individual inventors and scientists, administer patent laws.

Secretary of Munitions: to be devoted entirely to the job of supplying the army and navy with all ordnance, equipment and supplies with the particular job of keeping the nation prepared to switch its entire industrial organization to production of war materials in event of war, leaving the war and navy departments free to concentrate on the actual job of fighting.

Secretary of Public Welfare: to combine the activities of the public health service, study diseases and epidemics, administer laws relating to dangerous industries, enforce all legislation regarding sanitation, protection of women and children in industry and steer aliens to the path toward American citizenship.

Secretary of National Intelligence: to combine the bureaus of secret service now maintained by the Department of Justice, the Treasury, War and Navy departments, to obtain data of any nature desired by any government agency, report daily conditions the world over regarding political, economic, trade, and military conditions. Many of these proposals of course are scarcely given serious consideration by any considerable number in Congress and several overlap or almost duplicate entirely existing agencies. The fact that they are put forth means little except that many people are thinking out loud as to how the government can be made of more service to the public or more economical and logical in its organization.

GIRLS ARE JUST FIBBERS NOT LIARS

Canon Green in Addressing Liverpool Police Court on Juvenile Crime Says it is So

MAY SOUND PARADOXICAL

Ascribes Difference Between Two Sexes to Gentler Criticism Meted Out to Frail Sex

(By United Press.)

London, (By Mail).—The feminine of "liar" is "fibber".

It sounds paradoxical, but Canon Peter Green says it is so. He was addressing the Liverpool Police Court on Juvenile Crime.

"A criminal boy," he said, "is silly. A criminal girl is worse. There is nothing to equal a girl who has got off the right track. Bad boys tell lies which can be spotted, but girls lie connectedly, circumstantially, and in a most interesting and probable manner, which takes infinite knowledge and wisdom to discover. The crimes of boy offenders convince me that their offenses are the outcome not of badness, but silliness and imbecility."

Canon Green ascribes this difference between boy perverters and girls of the same ilk, to the gentler criticism meted out to the frail sex.

"If a boy at school is found out in a deception he is proclaimed a liar and boys are trained from early days to despise liars. The term is deemed too harsh for feminine offenders, and the most they are ever found out in is, a 'fib'. Girls will continue to fib light-heartedly, with never a blush when they are found out. This becomes a habit. And girls fib so efficiently that before long they are convinced of the truth of their own untruths and will add to a story with limitless imagination, never once garbling the yarn, until it reaches a perfectly plausible and possible finish."
